You are Invited:

A Shortage of Priests & Sisters? Myths and Misunderstandings in Discerning Vocation

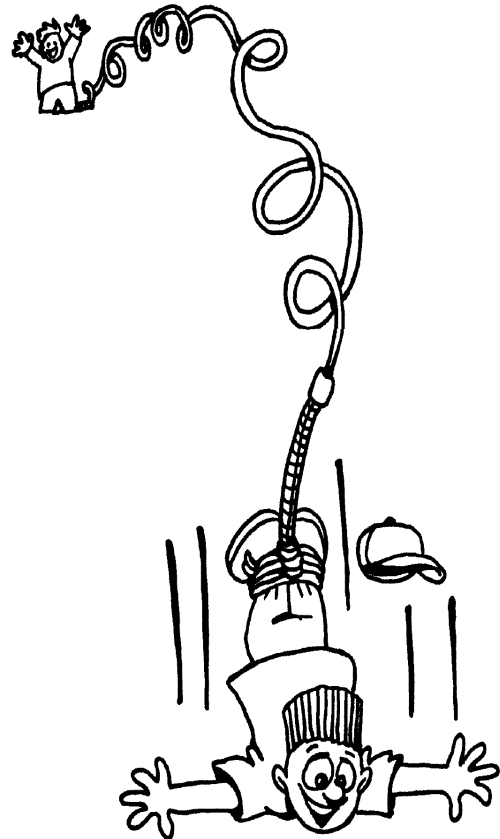

Presented by Dr. Kristina M. DeNeve

Bishop Ricken emphasizes, “Now is the time to alter our pastoral approach to increasing priestly and religious vocations to serve the needs of the diocese.”

Now is the time:

- to dispel the myths and misunderstandings that drive how we help people discern life as a husband, wife, priest, brother, sister, or a faithful single person
- to stop viewing religious vocations as a problem to be solved
- to pray, and do more than pray, for an increase in vocations to priesthood and religious life

Join us to learn what research tells us today about Emerging Adulthood and the Factors leading to successful vocations as a spouse, religious, ordained or flourishing single
